Fred Wilson and family arrived here last evening from Tuscarora on their way to visit the New Orleans Exposition.

The late assessment on the Independence mine at Tuscarora, was 15 cents per share instead of 10 cents, as published by us a couple of days ago.

John T. May, who has charge of the mines at Dolly Varden arrived here via Cherry Creek last evening. He will remain in town a few days.

The widow of Tom Thumb is about to marry Count Rosebud the Lilliputian giant.

A white female child was found in the possession of a Chinese woman in a brothel at San Jose a few days ago. She claims to have bought the child in San Francisco when it was a week old. The Sheriff took them both in charge until the matter is settled.

Mrs. Thankful Tanner, of Cleveland, Ohio, has sued Mrs. James A. Garfield for $25,000 damages for being run over by the latter's carriage last month.

The Belmont Courier of the 21th says Indian Dave, who was indicted by the Grand Jury of Nye county Aug. 5, 1884, for murdering a Chinaman near Keyser's Springs, and who, on the 25th of November last, was found guilty as charged, was hanged on Friday last at Belmont. Arriving at the scaffold, he asked permission to talk to the Indians who had been permitted to witness the execution. This having been granted, he addressed them in Shoshone, and whatever he may have said or asked, he met with few responses from some of the Indian spectators, who, let it be said, were perfectly quiet and orderly, although each one as admitted was carefully searched, only two of whom had to be disarmed.

It is safe to say says the Courier, that this execution has been worth more for the protection of life than all the decisions of all the Supreme Courts of all the States under existing laws.

A Helena dispatch of the 27th says: This city was thrown into a tremor of excitement yesterday on news being received of the capture of the notorious Montana horse-thief and desperado, Con Murphy. Two men, McFarland and Bashaw, left here yesterday and encountered the desperado and his brother at O'Neill's ranch, fifteen miles east of here on the Bozeman road. A bloody battle ensued, but the outlaws were finally brought to bay. These two men started this morning with their prisoner for Helena, but were overhauled on the way by a party from here, who took Murphy and swung him from a bridge about one mile and a half distant. At present his body hangs lifeless from the bridge.

The anxiety over the non-arrival of the steamer San Pablo at Yokohama is increasing. She is now out forty days. The vessel belongs to the Oriental and Occidental Steamship Company and is insured for $450,000. She had five cabins in passengers, 900 Chinese returning home for their New Year, and $520,000 in treasure. The crew, including officers, number fifty-three.

The "X-L-Sure" Minstrels.

The above named troupe of Tuscarora minstrels have arranged to appear before an Elko audience at Freeman Hall, to-morrow evening. It is made up exclusively of amateur talent, but is nevertheless, a number one company. Their performances in our neighboring town have always been well received, and the comments of our contemporary, the Tuscarora Times, were of a highly approving character. The entertainment will be a very amusing one, and by their attendance, our citizens will not only get their money's worth, but will have the satisfaction of bestowing their patronage on local talent. Give the boys a benefit!

Box sheet now open at the Postoffice. No extra charge for reserved seats. See ad. in another column.

Attempt at Suicide.

J. R. Henry and Oliver Riffe, both of Mound valley, have been occupying the same room at the Depot hotel during their attendance upon court the past few days, and on going to his room to retire about 10 o'clock last night, Mr. Henry found Oliver lying apparently dead upon the floor in a pool of blood which had run from wounds on each side of his throat, evidently inflicted by his own hand with a pocket knife lying near. Surgical aid was summoned and after the application of restoratives the would-be suicide was brought to consciousness, and is this evening, under medical treatment, resting quite easily, with a fair chance for recovery.

A Chinaman employed at the hotel, about 10 o'clock, remarked a heavy fall in the vicinity of the room occupied by Oliver Riffe, and it is supposed that Oliver lay there insensible until found by Henry two hours later.

Riffe had been drinking heavily for some days past which is the probable cause of the insane action upon his own life.

Hay brings $20 per ton in Eureka.

The Nevada Silver Convention meets at Carson to-day. The prospects are that the attendance will be large.

Don't forget to go and see the Minstrels to-night. You will get your money's worth sure.

D. T. Alger of Fort Halleck, brought down a carload of grain for this place by the train last evening.

Jack Bradley, ex-Chief of Police of Virginia City, was taken down with pneumonia last Tuesday, and is now in a very critical condition.

Prof. Orris Ring, of Winnemucca, is being favorably spoken of for Principal of the State University, says the State Journal.

Charley Warner has been confined to his bed with a very severe cold for several days past. C. W. Grover is attending to the forwarding business in the meantime.

The Senate Committee has reported favorably the bill passed by the House to pay settlers on the Duck Valley Reservation $5,400 for their improvements on the reservation.

Elijah M. Haines, an Independent Democrat, was elected permanent Speaker of the Illinois Assembly on the second ballot, breaking the deadlock, which has existed three weeks.

The House Committee on Postoffices and Postroads will favorably report the substitute for the bill pending before it relative to a reduction in newspaper postage from two cents to one cent per pound.

Postmaster Q. W. Hall has received from the Department the new Postal Notes which are issued in place of the old ones ordered discontinued on account of counterfeits. The new notes are in style superior to the old, and are of a bluish color.

Charles J. Rogers, Penitentiary Warden, who murdered Sterry, another Warden in October last, was hanged in British Columbia, in the jail-yard. He preserved a calm demeanor to the last. He ascended the scaffold with a bonnet. He lived for several minutes after the fall.

At Cincinnati, Wednesday, four men who had been on a big spree, were found in a sleigh in the western part of the city but one of whom was able to speak. One was dead, and the other two were so drunk and so nearly frozen as to be unconscious. The dead man's name is Peter G. Rice.

The Legislature has been only four weeks in session and has already got away with the coyote and struth-bills. The boys are just making business aches. It is now believed that the ponderous numble-peg and gum-chewing resolutions will be effectually disposed of by the middle of February.

The fourteenth of February will soon be here, and preparations for that event have been made at the Post office News stand, where all sorts of Valentines, from the softest sentimental to the broadly humorous, may be selected and appropriated for a mere nominal pecuniary consideration. Call in! It don't cost a cent to look at 'em.

A report reached here this morning that John Stuck had died at Palisade last night. We learn by telegraph this evening that the statement was incorrect. Though very low, John was still alive, and the hope is indulged that he may again pull through as he has before, when recovery was deemed impossible. John has been doing business in Palisade since some time last Spring.

Timothy Duffy, the man shot by Doc Bouton at Carson, continues to improve and his physician thinks he will be able to be about in a week or ten days.

We learn from Dr. Meigs that the condition of Oliver Riffe is unchanged from that of yesterday, and the chances at this time are in favor for his recovery. The great loss of blood by the patient has rendered him very weak, but the Doctor thinks that if fever can be averted, his recovery will be rapid. If fever should set in, however, the case will prove very critical.

Royal B. Young, a stepson of Brigham Young, was arrested for polygamy and illegal cohabitation. At an examination before the United States Commissioner the witness testified to the marriage being outlawed under the statute of limitation. His plural wife said he did not visit her often. Young at length asked her if they had not agreed to let the engagement drop until they saw how the Edmunds law was going to come out. She admitted it. The prosecution then asked both if they were sure of that fact. They both affirmed it strongly. Then the United States attorney asked them if they knew the Edmunds Act was passed in 1882, and not in 1881. With dismay Young admitted that he did not know when it was passed. The spurious defense was then torn to pieces. The examination was not finished, and the defendant was placed under $1,000 bonds.

Virginia Chronicle—A prospector by the name of Watson has recently located a mining claim on the Ophir grade about one mile west of Virginia. A shaft has been sunk on the ground at a point about 1,000 feet north of Hill's slaughter-house. The ledge is six feet in width; the rock gold bearing, carrying scarcely a trace of silver, and assays from $15 to $50 per ton. Chris Hill and Hub Stewart have agreed to sink an incline on the ledge 100 feet deep for one-third of the property. It is said the ore taken out will pay a handsome profit above the expenses of sinking the incline.

SALMAGUNDI.

Don't fail to see the famous Dan Rice stand on his head at Freeman Hall to-night.

At the conclusion of the performance this evening, those holding tickets will be entitled to join in a social dance. Excellent music will be furnished and a good time is promised to all who participate.

Harry Harville brought down an over thrifty Celestial who was detected in robbing the kitchen of Fred Wilson, by whom he was employed as cook. The covetous Mongolian will remain a guest of Sheriff Atwell for a period of 30 days.

The express train on the Reading, Penn., railway, while running rapidly, Friday, was derailed, upsetting and wrecking the cars. Twenty-five persons more or less hurt were taken from the wreck, but fortunately none fatally.

A stock company has just been formed in Salt Lake City, for the purpose of establishing a Democratic paper. The Tribune says: The incorporation is to be known as the Salt Lake Democrat Company, the capital stock being $25,000 with 5,000 shares of $5 each. The board of directors for the present, under the articles of incorporation are, George Collins, A. G. Campbell Matt Cullen, P. L. Williams, Roberts & Nelden, R. C. Chambers, L. E. Holden and a large number of other persons who have taken each a small amount. They propose putting in a steam power press, and with new type and material throughout, to commence the publication of the Salt Lake Democrat some time between February 20th and March 1st.

L. L. Rickard of Winnemucca, and D. W. Wallis of Battle Mountain, have established a safe yard and livery stable in San Francisco.

The Entertainment To-night.

The Tuscarora Amateurs will appear at Freeman Hall to-night with an entire new programme.

Mrs. Hoskins, a sister of Mrs. R. H. McGinley, will for the first time in several years, appear on the stage, taking the Dutch character, in which she excels which will be well worth the price of admission.

The company on Saturday night gave a very good performance notwithstanding that they labored under very disadvantages, having to go to the hall directly after a long cold ride and several of the members being afflicted with temporary colds. One of their number was also prevented by sickness from being present. To-night, however, they will be in first-class trim, and a number one entertainment may be expected.

Remember that a social dance will be given by the troupe immediately after the performance, to which those holding tickets to the entertainment will be entitled to take part without further cost.

Don't fail to take in the show and dance to-night.

A correspondent at Wells sends the following items from that end of the division:

E. P. Hardesty has been indisposed for several days past, but we are glad to see him on the streets again.

E. Woodruff, our worthy press agent, talks of retiring from the position. He has long filled the office most efficiently and it is to be hoped that he will continue to accommodate the public in the future as in the past.

Forty pupils are now attending school here; a larger number than for several years before.

Miss Josie Truman has returned from Elko and is now a pupil at the school here.

A Horrible Accident.

As the local train between Sacramento and Lathrop was passing a portion of the road below Lodi last Wednesday, the engineer espied seemingly the mangled remains of an animal on the track. The train was immediately stopped and the remains found to be those of a human being, but so horribly mangled as to be beyond recognition. As much as possible of the flesh was scraped together and put in a coffee-pot and carried to Lodi. The coroner was notified and an inquest was held. It was ascertained that the deceased was a man by the name of Harry Montague, a blacksmith, who had been working in Wallace. There was $16.50 found in a pocket of a pair of pants which had evidently been worn by deceased, a short distance from the scene of the tragedy.

TUSCARORA ITEMS.

(Times-Review, Feb. 2, 1885.)

Is this to be a $3 camp hereafter? Is the query at the present time.

The business outlook for this camp at the present time is far from encouraging. A bill is before the Nevada Legislature exempting from taxation church property, and also property of Masons, Odd Fellows and other secret societies where the same does not exceed $3,000.

The Navajo-Independence will make a general clean-up and then shut down for an indefinite length of time, the men positively refusing to submit to the cut of $1 per day in their wages. Last night upwards of thirty men, including stoppers, ore sorters, car-men and drifters were laid off from the Navajo mine, only those doing contract work being retained.

Thirteen thousand immigrants, intending to settle in Oregon and Washington Territory, passed over the Northern Pacific Railroad during 1884.

SALMAGUNDI.

Regular monthly Masonic meeting to-night.

C. W. Hinchcliffe has been appointed by the United States Circuit Court Receiver for the Nevada Central Railway. The road and all its property will be turned over to him.

John R. Bradley and family and W. T. Smith and family departed for California by the train this morning. Their intention is to enjoy a period of about thirty days' in the salubrious Golden State.

Gabe Hoskins started on a flying trip to Eureka this morning.

Fred Wilson started on a visit to his old home in the East Sunday evening. He will also take in the exposition at New Orleans.

The Minstrels Last Night.

The Tuscarora Troupe played again last night, giving entire satisfaction to the well filled house which greeted their second appearance. The performance took a wide range bringing out the varied abilities of the respective members; the boys exerting themselves to maintain the very favorable reputation acquired at home, in which efforts they succeeded nobly. Hoskins is a host in himself, and his wife, though long since retired from the stage, still does the Dutch song-and-dance business in excellent shape. As a comical mule, Joe Bignon can afford an unusual amount of hilarity to the square inch, and in tripping the light fantastic—with clogs—he has few equals. Rivers, as a high-priced, high keyed diva in burnt cork, carnation stockings and red striped short-clothes, was simply immense both in personation and in execution—particularly in the graceful act of "being seated."

In fact all hands showed 'em what they could do under ordinarily favorable circumstances, and the social dance given at the close of the entertainment was a most pleasant affair throughout. Come again boys.

Speaking in opposition to the resolution introduced in the Senate, Tuesday, denouncing the perpetration of the dynamite explosions in London, Saturday, Riddleberger of Virginia, closed with the following peroration: "Only a short time ago the Houses of Congress had heard of a judicial opinion, rendered 'over yonder,' punishing some Irishmen, in which the Judge violated every principle of common law, every principle of the Bill of Rights, every principle of the Magna Charta, every principle of the Constitution, in determining questions of fact for the jury. Had any expressions of indignation been heard in the Senate? No. If an English Judge, having Irishmen on trial before him, without eliciting any expression of indignation on the part of the United States Senate, he (Riddleberger) must beg to be excused from expressing sympathy for blowing up a building in which the laws were made that were administered by such Judges. 'We are so neutral here,' he continued, 'that some Senators think we ought not to dig a ditch (alluding to the Nicaraguan canal) without the consent of England; so neutral that we could not give an adverse opinion about poor, struggling Ireland. Although Ireland's natural increase, Riddleberger continued, had been equal to that of England, there were not by 2,000,000 so many inhabitants in Ireland to-day as twenty years ago. Such was the result of oppression. Any resolution that might be passed here would be construed as a resolution of sympathy and fellowship with the Government of cruelty and tyranny. The resolution before the Senate he regarded as mere expression of sympathy with the British Government, and he would not vote for it."

Ingalls, of Kansas, also opposed the passage of the resolution, saying: "There is something worse in society than dynamite, and that is the passions and guilt that make dynamite possible. The worst dynamite is in the soul of man, poverty—helpless and hopeless—oppression. The wrongs of centuries are ingredients of that agency of destruction. If we are to be expected by the adoption of this resolution to express our conviction that the American people are in any way whatever responsible for those outrages, or that they are in any way whatever accomplices of those who are responsible for them, I sir, repel and disavow it. These acts convey a momentous and portentous lesson. No matter what may be said of the course of England toward Ireland, no matter what may be said of her course in the East Indies, in China, in Egypt, in New Zealand; in all portions of the earth where her power has been exerted, there can be but one opinion of the lesson that these occurrences teach. That lesson, sir, is, that for nations, as for men, there is nothing so unprofitable as injury. The thief robs himself; the murderer inflicts upon himself a deeper wound than that which slays his victim, any nation or State that imposes chains upon any portion of its citizens or subjects, places heavier manacles upon itself than those which bind its hapless victims; and those who deny the rights of mankind, or impair the prerogatives of freedom anywhere, are taught by these occurrences that behind them, silent and tardy it may be, but inexorable and relentless, stands, with uplifted hand, a menacing specter of vengeance and retribution."

DIED.

GILLAND.—In Lamoille valley, February 3rd, 1885, Thomas Gilland, a native of Antrim county, North of Ireland, aged 55 years.

SALMAGUNDI.

Frank Bell was re-elected State Prison Warden Monday.

A pleasant party and social gathering is being talked of by the young folks to occur some time this week.

Charles Seamans, who is wanted in this State for forgery, has just been captured in Erie county, Pa. A reward is offered for him.

Warner & Co. to-day forwarded a carload of ore to Sandy, Utah, for reduction. It came from the neighborhood of Tuscarora.

A drunken Indian at Carlin last week, drank a bottle of St. Jacob's oil, supposing it to be whiskey, which landed him in the happy hunting grounds.

Mr. Antonio Bixel and wife took their departure on the train this morning for San Francisco. Mr. Bixel intends visiting the orange groves of Los Angeles before his return.

B. F. Thurman, better known as "Kentuck," took his departure for San Francisco by this morning's train. He goes to have an operation performed upon his neck for the removal of a tumor which has become very troublesome of late.

John Torre, ex-County Treasurer of Eureka, and Joe Davidson, also of the Base Range, passed through for the East last evening. They will take in the Exposition at New Orleans during their perambulations in the region of the rising sun.

The great snow blockade in the gorge of the Columbia river, between The Dalles and Portland, was the most extensive ever known in that section, and cost the railroad company fully $300,000 to open the road after three week's hard work.

The State Miners' Union issued an address for the reduction of 10 per cent. all over Ohio in coal mines. This practically ends the strike in Hocking valley, as it brings the rate to 60 cents in that district, and 50 cents in most of the districts of the State.

Chancellor Derby, who went as messenger with the electoral vote of Nevada to Washington, returned Monday. The Sage-brush State went for Blaine this time and got left as usual, so that if Mr. Derby had switched off and run into Canada, it wouldn't have made a bit of difference.

Laura De Force Gordon was admitted to the bar of the United States Court, Monday. She and the Lockwood Presidential aspirant are the only hens that have yet perched upon that bar and piped their shrill clarions at those potent, grave and revered Seniors.

Star Valley Locals.

Mr. Samuel McMullen's baby is quite sick.

Mr. Wm. Black is very proud! It is a boy and weighs about nine pounds.

The amiable wife of Malcolm Hall has been near death's door, but is recovering slowly at this writing.

Prof. Kirkpatrick was thrown from a horse last Tuesday evening, breaking his collar-bone and dislocating his shoulder. He has the sympathy of a host of friends.

The duet sang by Wilson Armstrong and his sister Miss May, could hardly be excelled. In fact, all the exercises at the last meeting of the literary society were well rendered.

Some thought that the Star Valleyites possessed no literary ability, but all they wanted was a "Breeze" to start them.—[L. Hesperian.]

Elder Breeze subscribed for the INDEPENDENT, sent it to his brother and has received another in exchange. Let others do likewise, so your friends at home may get the most reliable news of our county and State. MELROSE.

Assemblyman Hanks, of Elko, has introduced a bill to amend an "Act relating to officers, their qualifications, times of election, terms of office, etc., etc.," the salient features of which bill is to make the Sheriffs of the various counties, ex-officio Assessors, and District Attorneys ex-officio County Superintendents of Public Schools. While the Sheriff might discharge the duties also of Assessor in some of the small counties of the State, in large ones like Elko, Humboldt, Washoe and some others, the work of assessing the property distributed over so large an area within the period established by law, is amply sufficient to occupy the exclusive time and attention of any one man, and should the duties of Assessors be attached to those of Sheriff, the work would necessarily, in the large counties mentioned, be performed by deputies at a cost little or no less than at present and with a probability of its being done in a less satisfactory manner. Unless the duties of Superintendent of Schools are advanced beyond those of a mere clerical nature, the dual service proposed might easily be performed by District Attorneys.

In answer to the query: "How shall we educate our boys?" The Sacramento Bee makes a dead center shot when it answers, "Send them to the public school in the daytime and keep them off the streets at night."

It is said that Mrs. Dudley, the assassin of O'Donovan Rossa, is the bastard daughter of persons of rank. She had two children, both of whom are dead. She possessed good histrionic powers, and at one time studied with the view of going on the stage. She speaks French fluently. Conflicting reports are received as to whether she has been married.

Fresh Eastern Oysters received daily by express at the Gem.

SALMAGUNDI.

Amos Boach shipped yesterday, for L. Fannof of Tuscarora, one car of ore to Sandy, Utah, for reduction.

A pleasant party and a social dance was given Mrs. Clark, nee Miss Mamie Mundell, by the citizens of Toano on Monday night. The affair was one of great enjoyment to all who participated in the festivities of the occasion.

Lost—a letter containing a money order for $9; drawn on the Elko Postoffice. The finder will confer a favor by leaving it at this office.

S. S. Sears went out to Lamoille valley to-day, to attend the funeral of the late Thomas Gilland.

Mr. John Kelch, a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lang, arrived here yesterday from San Francisco. He will in the future make Elko his home.

Miss Mary E. Welch, who has been teaching in Independence valley, went up to Toano on Sunday night and opened school at that place on Tuesday morning.

If you desire that the children of Elko be kept in school for the usual ten months in the year, vote for the special school tax.

Warner & Co. forwarded to-day, per Thos. Lovelock's team, 2,880 feet lumber for Geo. W. Peltier & Co., of Tuscarora.

A young woman in Pittsburg died recently from the effects of having her ears pierced. Moral essays upon this barbarous practice are now in order.

Do you know that to-night is the time appointed for Ham McCain's reception? His friends are all invited, and a glorious time is assured to all who favor him with their presence.

Col. Lamont's salary as private secretary to Gov. Cleveland was $4,000 a year. As private secretary to President Cleveland it will be $3,250 a year.

An Eastern paper says: "Gov. Adams of Nevada, happened to overhaul an old coat the other day and found $3,800 in one of the pockets. He had forgotten all about the money." We fear that some itinerant sagebrusher has been triding with the credulous Wabash editor.

Custom compels every Iclander in his native land to kiss every woman he meets.

The foundation plank of the Socialists is: "Freedom from labor, anxiety and sorrow." They can get that all in Heaven, but they don't want to do a credit business.

Maggie Mitchell will celebrate her fiftieth birthday in 1885 by retiring from the stage.

A bill has been introduced in the Pennsylvania Legislature which provides that any wife-beater, or any bender of any woman, shall receive in the jail yard, at the hands of the Sheriff, thirty-nine lashes on the bare back. A similar law was enacted some years since by the Nevada Legislature, but it was decided unconstitutional.

The lower House of the Indiana Legislature has passed a bill prohibiting Sunday baseball playing, and it is thought that the Senate will concur. Thus are the privileges of the Hoosier curtailed.

Commissioner Babcox went up to Deeth yesterday, to perfect arrangements for bridging the Humboldt at that point—a much needed improvement.

When you go to the polls on the 21st instant, be sure that your ballot contains the legend: "Tax? Yes."

Ben Reinhart returned last evening from a business trip to San Francisco.

Representative Cassidy has presented to the House a petition of the Nevada State Teachers' Association, urging the passage of the educational bill.

If there is any one thing more than another which has a tendency to transform a quiet, well-behaved boy into a first-class hoodlum, it is to allow him the free and uncontrolled privilege of the streets from dark until eleven or twelve o'clock at night.

Neck Tie Party.

A grand invitation neck tie party was given in Pleasant Valley a few evenings ago by Mr. Cal Willey and his sister Mrs. Tiffany. The young folks came flocking in from all directions about six o'clock, and at 7, the sack containing the neckties (each neck tie being in a sealed envelope), was passed around. Each of the boys eagerly plunged his hand into the sack, drew out an envelope, tore it open and commenced searching for the pretty girl whose neck tie matched with the one he had drawn from the sack. Each gentleman having by this method secured a partner, dancing commenced to the music furnished by the well-known Pleasant Valley musicians, and they all enjoyed the dance exceedingly well until 12 o'clock, when supper was announced by Mr. Willey. The boys made a rush for their partners and was ushered into the spacious dining room where a large table was fairly trembling under its tremendous load of turkey, goose, chicken, fruits, pies, and cakes of all kinds and sizes, and many other good things too numerous to mention. To crown the whole, a mammoth wind pudding sat in the centre of the table, the finest ever seen in this section of the country. It took the combined strength of Mrs. Tiffany, her daughter and Mr. Willey, to lift and place it on the table. After doing more than justice to the delicious supper, the guests bade their host and hostess good night and departed for their homes.

WILD CANADIAN.

J. F. Hallock has appointed J. W. Holbrook, of Wadsworth, Deputy Controller.

Cleveland's Danger.

Among the New York World's city gossip is the following: Not less than three gentlemen during the current week have spoken in merely an incidental way of the personal danger which they conceive surrounds President Cleveland. One was Gen. Edward M. McCook; another ex-Postmaster-General James, both Republicans. James spoke very freely, and said: "It is a delicate subject, but it is one I have a very decided opinion upon. I have no hesitation in expressing it for publication. I believed the Star-routers were responsible for Garfield's death and have not changed my opinion."

Bullion Received.

The stage from Tuscarora Tuesday evening brought down seven bars of Navajo bullion weighing 704 pounds, the assayed value of which was $14,430.26. It was forwarded to San Francisco by the train yesterday morning.

A strange fatality appeared amongst the horses of Joseph Smith, of Ruby Valley recently. The horses would lie down quietly without a struggle, and apparently without pain, die in the course of a very few hours. Within the space of five days, Mr. Smith lost thirteen head, aggregating in value $1,000 in this singular and unaccountable manner.
